How do you get power while camping?

Check out these options! While camping, you can get power through gas generators, solar generators, or by paying a little more for a campsite with electricity. Those who want to get even more experimental can try out options like wind generators, pedal generators, or even your car battery.

Do you need a power source for a camping trip?

Having a power source at hand ensures important equipment like your smartphone or GPS devices will be charged in case of an emergency. From solar power camping setups to traditional gas-powered generators, our guide will walk you through everything you need to know to electrify your start camping trip.

Do you need electricity when camping?

If you'd like to enjoy some modern conveniences while camping, you're going to need electricity! In this guide, we'll walk you through 10 ways to power your gear on your next camping getaway. Sharing is caring!

What power source do you use when camping?

The Rockpals 250W portable generator is our personal power source when we go camping. The ability to charge our laptops at the campsite in a small, lightweight package is ideal. We pair it with Rockpals 100W solar charger and as long as the sun is out, we can stay productive for hours! There are some power limitations, though.

How do you generate electricity at a campsite?

One of the most popular methods of generating electricity at a campsite is through a gas-powered generator. Gasoline generators burn gas to produce electricity. Although most of these generators run on regular gasoline, others can run on propane, natural gas, or diesel, which makes them a very versatile and reliable source of power.

Should you buy a solar powered camper if you're off-grid?

Since they don't need to be recharged using electricity, these are a good option for campers who want to stay off-grid for a while, particularly if you're camping in a forest or other area where solar power may not be a reliable solution. Of course, you ideally need some fast-flowing water nearby to power the device.

Finally, here's one last reminder: keep things simple. That's one of the biggest reasons to go camping to begin with -- its inherent simplicity. We have countless options for everything today, and it's often both overwhelming and tempting.
